

This page is blank in original manual.

(Second cover page)

Disclaimer

This document is rebuilt from scanned JPEG pages of the HP original manual (freely available on Internet), using an OCR program and manually reformatting its output (and retyping some parts !). The result may thus differ from original book in either format or content : even if I did it with the best attention, some errors (OCR miss-recognition, typing, formatting, ...) could occur in this manual process. Any remarks/errors discover are welcome.

I make no warranty as to the accuracy or completeness of this document and hereby disclaim any responsibility therefore.

This document is not reviewed; neither approved by Hewlett-Packard Company.

Pierre Hardy.

Mail to: pierre.hardy@swing.be

Web site: <http://users.swing.be/id-phy/>

Note :

The fee I ask is for the reformatting work of a publicly available document (on Internet in JPEG format).

I've done this because the original manual is not available anymore from HP, and more difficult to find than the HP-IL module itself. I did this for myself first, and propose it as a "Service".

This manual and any part of it may not be copied, resold or transferred, either in electronic or paper format. The license is granted to the "Service" buyer for its personal use only.